Prescription Murder
by
William Link & Richard Levinson

Providing the inspiration for the TV series Columbo, the theatrical predecessor, Prescription: Murder tells the story of a brilliant psychiatrist and his mistress who hatch a plot to murder his neurotic, possessive wife. The execution of their plan and the creation of their perfect alibi depends on a bizarre impersonation. Lt. Columbo must engage the psychiatrist in a duel of wits until the doctor succeeds in having Columbo removed from the case...

March 27–April 19, 2026
STRANGE SNOW
by Stephen Metcalfe

It is 5:00 a.m. on the first day of the fishing season and Megs is determined to get his buddy up, but David has a terrible hangover that is not entirely from last night's drinking. Megs and David served together in Vietnam and David still blames himself for the death of their pal, Bobby. David lives with his sister, Martha, a high school teacher who is enjoying a budding romance with the delightful Megs. Together they endeavor to convince David he has to get past the war and get on with his life.

May 22–June 21, 2026
Glorious!
The True Story of Florence Foster Jenkins, the Worst Singer in the World
by Peter Quilter

In 1940s New York, the performer everyone wanted to see live was Florence Foster Jenkins, an enthusiastic soprano whose pitch was far from perfect. Known as “the first lady of the sliding scale,” she warbled and screeched her way through the evening to an audience who mostly fell about with laughter. But this delusional and joyously happy woman paid little attention to her critics. Instead, she was surrounded by a circle of devoted friends who were almost as eccentric as she was.

July 24–August 16, 2026
She Kills Monsters
by Qui Nguyen

A comedic romp into the world of fantasy role-playing games! In this high-octane dramatic comedy laden with homicidal fairies, nasty ogres an '90s pop culture, acclaimed playwright Qui Nguyen offers a heart-pounding homage to the geek and warrior within us all.

September 18–October 11, 2026
Ghost Brothers of Darkland County book by Stephen King
music by John Mellencamp

A blues-inflected score by legend John Mellencamp and a refracted parable from thriller master Stephen King create the spooky, cautionary tale of this piece. In an eerie cabin in the woods, a young couple come across its caretaker, the Troubador, who reveals to them an almost Biblically violent story that took place in that very house, about a set of brothers who are in love with the same woman and the ensuing rivalry that sparks between them. The young couple realizes that this cabin's past is like their present. When the young man's brother shows up to claim the woman he loves, will they repeat the sins of the past—especially if it means staying alive?

November 13–December 13, 2026
The Wisdom of Eve
by Mary Orr

An “inside” story that recounts an unscrupulous ingenue's rise to Broadway stardom. Eve Harrington is standing in the rain by the stage door of the theatre in which the renowned Margo Crane is starring in her latest long-run hit. Struck by Eve's “sincerity,” Margo hires her as a personal secretary. Eve's true character emerges as she lies, cheats and blackmails her way to Broadway stardom and a Hollywood career, leaving the wreckage of her friends' trust behind her. Adapted from the story by Mary Orr, on which the film All About Eve and the hit musical Applause were based.
